Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have fill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in maoy such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, all liver troubles. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root. Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these mative roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrityon—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy. Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amoun Trust to Nature.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be baid if he will use Newbro's Herp cide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpi-cide destroys the germ that cuts the half off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely baid. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of ha ering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. A PERSISTENT INTERVIEWER. Miss Asi L. Esac, who is passing the ummer in Oyster Bay for the purpose of interviewing the president or Mrs. Roosevelt on what she declares is "a matter of life and death," created a scene during the service in Christ Episcopal Church yesterday.

Miss Esac, or Miss Case, as her name is supposed to be, has attended every church service the president has since his arrival at Oyster Bay in July. She has climbed Sagamore Hill on foot several times, only to be turned away by the secret service men.

She presented herself early at the church yesterday, and took a seat directly behind the pew usually occupied by the Roosevelt family. When Usher James Duffy requested her to relinquish this seat she refused. Dufly forcibly remov-ed her to the rear of the church, and Miss Esac says he tore her gown in so

In the rear of the church Miss Esac refused to sit down. A secret service agent stood beside her, and during the service she made no less than a dozen attempts to get past him.

As the President was leaving the church three secret service men surrounded Miss Esac, but she shouted: "Mr. President, Mr. President; President Roosevelt, Wont you speak to me

The President turned his head as he passed, but did not pause.

Behind the President as he left the church came Mrs. Longworth, Mrs. Roosevelt, Quentin, and Mr. Longworth Miss Esac reached the edge of the aisi. in time to catch Mr. Longworth. She called to him several times, but Mr. Longworth hurried on, looking quite surprised and rather bewildered at the amount of attention he had excited.

Outside the church Miss Esac struggled hard to reach the President's car riage. The secret service men interfered their broad backs and wedged the woman in an angle of the church

In the struggle her watch chain snap ped and the watch rolled along the path. She seemed quite grateful when one o the men returned it to her.

Miss Esace subsequently applied for a warrant for the arrest of Duffy, she charging him with tearing her The warrant was refused.

On the edge of a roof coping five stories from the ground an alleged burglar and a policeman fought for life and death in New York on Saturday afternoon. The policeman, after a desperate struggle, in which his clothes were slashed to ribbons by a knife wielded by his opponent, managed to knock the man

Policeman Dwyer, of the Eldridge street station, caught the man on the edge of the roof of No. 45 Forsyth street, where he is said to have attempted to break into a flat. When the man saw Dwyer he ran to the coping and made ready to try a jump of 20 feet across a sheer drop of five stories to the roof of an adjoining house.

Dwyer caught him and threw him upon the roof. The man sprang to his teet, however, and, drawing a long knife, rushed at the policeman. The latter warded off the blows with his club, but many of the slashes reached his clothing, ripping it to shreds. For 10 minutes the battle continued, ending finally by the man lying unconscious at the policeman's feet, with a long cut in his scalp, where the club had reached him.

At the police station he said he was George Klein, of No. 394 Pitt street. A bunch of skeleton keys and a bank book made out in the name of Mrs. Riske Kraseoff, on the State Bank, show-ing deposits of $500, were found in his

Killed by His Wife.

Mrs. Edward G:liis, wife of a wellknown and wealthy merchant of Malvern, Ark., shot and killed her husband Sunday. She fired three shots, two of which went wild, one of them painfully wounding Alderman Reece, of Hot Springs. The shooting took place on Springs. The shooting took place on the streets of that town. Mrs. Gillis believed her husband to be paying at-One Price Clothier and Price Clothier and Could be paying attention to another Malvern woman and when, after they had driven together from Malvern to Hot Springs, he became separated from her, her jealous rage got the upper hand. Securing a revolver, she set out in search of him. After an analysis particular, the stream Mrs. Gillians the stream hour's patrolling the streets Mrs. Gillis $9,50 value now met Gillis in his buggy, and although his companion was a man, she stopped the vehicle and, so witnesses state, abused her husband roundly. It is alleged that Gillis then jumped from the buggy and struck his wife in the mouth with his clenched fist, and she retaliated by firing the three shots as stated. The woman is in jail, too hysterical to make a statement, and has not been told of her husband's death. Alderman Reece's wound is not dangerous.

Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, said recently: "A man can live comfortably without profits on the sains; no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of the use of a little corrective after overeating. A corrective like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat, Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 Kingstrest.

Having used all the highly recommended crams and lotions, with much hesitancy I bought your entire treatment after giving it a fair trial I most heartily recompand it, for it's worth its weight in gold to any woman having freekles. Young Woman Drowned.

Miss Annie Gray, aged twenty-one years, a beautiful girl of Harrisburg, Pa, who arrived in Baltimore yesterday morning on a visit to her uncle, Daniel Brady, and to attend the marriage of a triend, was drowned yesterday afternoon. With several members of her uncle's family, she went on board the schooner Marie Palmer. Samuel Campbell, the mate, invited them to take a trip in the yawl. Miss Elizabeth Brady, a cousin, was helped into the boat by Campbell, but Miss Gray laughingly made a leap for the small craft before Campbell could get hold of her. The next instant she struck against the man and knocked him into the water. She touched the side of the yawl with one foot but, unable to catch her bal-ance, fell into the dock and sank.

Campbell scrambled into the boat, and in an instant Engineer William Arm-strong was overboard in an effort to rescue the girl. He caught her gown, but the clothing slipped from his grasp. Miss Gray's sixteen-year-old brother saw his sister drown.

Miss Brady had to be restrained from jumping overboard after her cousin. Later in the afternoon she sgain attempted to throw herself overboard in her wild grief.
